DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: (P5 In 4), fig 3 does not contain 25. Please clarify what 25 is referring to in fig 4. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claim 12 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are: Segments are in assembled relation in claim 12, unclear which embodiment applicant is referring to. If referring to embodiment of fig 4, changing the spacing of the male and female detent portions would cause all of the seams to have gaps between adjacent surface portions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-5,8-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Spadaro (USPN 3,072,280). In regards to claim 1, Spadaro clearly shows a multi-segment container 10 having a plurality of substantially identical segments 16 in mutually hinged array to form an enclosure, where in peripheral portions of the segments collectively form a pair of end walls in mutually spaced relation, each segment including hinge means (fig 1) for detachable engagement with an adjoining segment. Examiner does not recognize 112 6th paragraph for the "means for" statement since the claim does not pass the three prong test. Examinee views "hinge" as sufficient structure, material or acts for achieving the specified function (see MPEP § 2181- § 2186)

6. In regards to claim 2, Spadaro shows the side portions to include a pair of tab portions located outside segment peripheral portion, and including hinge means(fig 4).

7. In regards to claim 3, Spadaro clearly shows a pair of tab portions include a male 36,37 and a female 38,39 hinge portion.

8. In regards to claim 4, Spadaro clearly shows a substantially continuous peripheral wall (fig 6).

9. In regards to claim 5, Spadaro clearly shows end walls that are substantially continuous (fig 6).

10. In regards to claim 8, Spadaro shows what the examiner considers a substantially cylindrical peripheral wall (fig 1).

11. In regards to claim 9, Spadaro shows his side portions include a projection edge portion to form feet 58,59. Examiner considers these feet to have the same structure and recitation as a stabilizing heel.

Art Unit: 3727

12. In regards to claim 10, Spadaro shows raised edge portions (fig 3) 19,21 to serve as stabilizing contact surfaces with adjoining container segments.

13. In regards to claim 11, Spadaro shows hinge means consist of female 38 and male 37 detent portions in removable, mutually pivotal, attached relation (fig 5).

14. In regards to claim 12, Spadaro shows male and female detent portions are in mutually spaced relation such that gaps of predetermined size are created between adjacent surface portions of the container, to ventilate the container (fig 3-5).

15. Claims 1,6,7 are also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hunt (USPN 5,101,972). In regards to claim 1, Hunt clearly shows a multi-segment container having a plurality of substantially identical segments 12,14 in mutually hinged array to form an enclosure, where in peripheral portions of the segments collectively form a pair of end walls in mutually spaced relation, each segment including hinge means (fig 1) for "detachable" (to the same degree as claimed) engagement with an adjoining segment.

16. With respect to claim 6, Hunt clearly shows separation means on the inner surface (fig 1).

17. With respect to claim 7, Hunt clearly shows the separation means are corrugations having spaces of predetermined width there between (fig 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

18. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3727

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

19. Claim 8 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spadaro in view of Hunt (USPN 5,101,972). With respect, Spadaro shows everything except a peripheral wall is substantially cylindrical. Hunt teaches a cylindrical storage apparatus of dimension slightly larger than the disc shaped recording media to be stored (col 3 ln 26). Hunt's container is more cylindrical than Spadaro's in order to have a better fit on the round media stored within. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Spadaro's container to be more cylindrical in order to better fit round media.
